

Policy position: Healthy Food and Drink Provision

Purpose

This policy position outlines Healthway's approach to Healthy Food and Drink Provision.

Background

Healthway's Strategic Plan; Active, Healthy People: 2018-2023 identifies "Increasing Healthy Eating" as one of five strategic priority and key action areas.

Individual behaviour to make healthy choices can thrive in supportive environments with accessible and affordable healthy food choices. Evidence suggests that environmental and policy interventions may be among the most effective strategies for creating population-wide improvements in healthy eating¹.

Policy approach

Healthway encourages increasing healthy food and drink choices at funded events, activities, and spaces by creating settings that support healthy eating. Therefore, for organisations that occupy and manage food and drink outlets or provide their own food and drink services, it will be a condition of funding that sugary drinks will not be on display. Sugary drinks may still be sold, however, they cannot be displayed for sale or advertised. This condition may also be applied by Healthway through other funded activities.

For event-based projects, funded organisations will also encourage the attendance of food vendors from the Healthier Vendor Guide, or vendors/caterers who are able to offer food and drink options that are consistent with the assessment criteria for inclusion in the Guide.

Healthway can provide support and advice to increase healthy food and drink options. This may include:

- reviewing food vendor menus to categorise food and drinks as green, amber, or red using a traffic light system
- providing practical advice and support to increase healthy options (green) and decrease unhealthy (red) options
- providing guidelines for the non-display of sugary drinks e.g. products that should not be on display and suitable alternative drinks
- strategies for engaging food vendors in the Healthier Vendor Guide.

In addition to the above, Healthway will work with funded organisations to identify other strategies to create environments that support healthy eating.

An organisation's ability to offer healthy food and drink options consistent with the traffic light system is taken into consideration in the assessment of funding applications and the implementation of this policy.

Definitions

Traffic Light System: A system of food classification based on food nutrient content and alignment with the Australian Dietary Guidelinesⁱⁱ. All food and drinks are classified as Green, Amber or Red. The nutrient criteria and colour coding is based on the Department of Health's *Healthy Options WA: Food and Nutrition Policy for WA Health*ⁱⁱⁱ.

Vendors: An establishment that provides prepared food or drinks for public consumption.

Display: Display refers to product placement or location and product accessibility and visibility to the consumer.

Sugary Drinks: Refers to all non-alcoholic water-based beverages with added sugar, including sugar-sweetened soft drinks, energy drinks, fruit drinks, sports drinks, and cordial. This term does not include milk-based products, 100% fruit juice, or non-sugar sweetened beverages (i.e. artificial, non-nutritive, or intensely sweetened)ⁱⁱ.
