

Healthy Communities Program

Guidelines for Aboriginal Health requests up to $10,000

Our Healthy Communities Program works in partnership with organisations to create a healthy and more active Western Australia. Our funding is prioritised to the health issues and population groups outlined in our Strategic Plan, Active Healthy People: 2018-2023.

These Guidelines provide an outline of Healthway's Healthy Communities Program for Aboriginal Health funding up to $10,000, including details around eligibility requirements, the request and assessment process.

Please contact the Healthway Health Promotion Team to discuss your ideas prior to developing your proposal on 133 777 or email healthway@healthway.wa.gov.au.

Requests must be received at least five calendar months prior to the commencement of your project.

Aboriginal health funding

The objectives of this program are:

- To fund activities related to the promotion of good health among Aboriginal people and/or communities
- To provide funding to organisations engaged in Aboriginal health.

Requests for Healthy Communities Aboriginal Health funding should aim to increase individual knowledge and skills, change behaviour and implement community and organisational policies to create environments that support good health for Aboriginal people and/or communities.

Our strategic priorities

Healthway's Strategic Plan: Active Healthy People: 2018-2023 details our priorities across five strategic health areas:

- Increasing healthy eating
- Increasing physical activity
- Improving mental health
- Preventing harm from alcohol
- Creating a smoke-free WA.

Active Healthy People: 2018-2023 reflects current evidence and complements both state and national health promotion plans, strategies and policies.

We acknowledge many people in our community, including Aboriginal people, face barriers to good health and we remain committed to working with a range of partners to find new and innovative ways to achieve better health for Western Australians that need it the most.

Request and assessment process

Grant applicants are required to complete a Healthy Communities Funding Request Form which is available from the Lotterywest Healthway Grants Portal. Your request will be assessed using criteria including:

- The ability to reach Aboriginal people and/or communities.
- Its focus on health promotion or the prevention of illness or injury using a communitybased approach.
- The potential of the project to increase knowledge, change attitudes or behaviours to improve health.
- The ability of the project or some of the activities to be ongoing after Healthway's initial funding.
- If the project represents good value for money.

What happens if my request is successful?

Following the assessment and approval processes, we will notify you of the outcome of your request. If successful, we will send you an Agreement which confirms the funded amount, any specific requirements for the project and the obligations for Healthway supported organisations.
