Healthway welcomes new board member

Highly accomplished researcher and academic Professor Donna Cross OAM has been appointed to the Healthway Board for a three-year term.

Professor Cross has extensive experience in health promotion and has significantly contributed to child and adolescent health in Australia and internationally.

She has previously held positions including Healthway Research Committee member, Professor with the School of Global and Population Health at The University of Western Australia, as well as Head of the Health Promotion and Education Research team and Director of the Early Childhood Development and Learning Collaboration at the Telethon Kids Institute.

Professor Cross joins current Board members Professor Peter Klinken AC (chair), Ms Miriam Borthwick, Mr Stephen Carre OAM, Professor Cheryl Kickett-Tucker AM, Mr Steve Harris, and Mr Jim McGinty AM.

Professor Cheryl Kickett-Tucker, who joined the Healthway Board in 2019, and Steve Harris, who joined in 2016, have also been re-appointed to the Board.

Comments attributed to Healthway Lotterywest CEO Ralph Addis:

“Professor Cross brings a wealth of experience to the Healthway Board.

“She joins a passionate and dedicated Board, and we look forward to working with her to positively promote and facilitate good health and healthy lifestyles for the people of Western Australia.

“We also look forward to continuing this work with Professor Cheryl Kickett-Tucker and Steve Harris, who have both been re-appointed to the Healthway Board for a further three years.”
